Academic Support Center

As a part of the larger Academic Support Center, the Tutoring Center (Kiely 127–131) offers a number of vital services—available free of charge to Queens College students. These include tutors in selected academic subjects; a reading lab; workshops in study skills; and a computer facility where students may write, conduct research, and print out their work. It also provides a tutoring center devoted solely to the sciences.

All students are invited to stop by, explore our services, and pick up a tutoring schedule!

We tutor students in the following disciplines:

- Biology
- Chemistry
- Physics

Study Skills

The Academic Support Lab offers students a number of ways to hone their academic skills.

Workshops are offered in the following areas:

- Taking notes
- Reading journal articles
- Reading textbooks
- Organizing information for efficient study
- Making oral presentations
- Taking essay tests
- Managing time
- Writing personal statements

Students must sign up to attend workshops.

ESL Reading Lab

The Academic Support Lab offers ESL students several kinds of help in reading and speaking English.

Among these are:

- A self-service ESL reading laboratory
- A library of ESL materials
- Tutors in reading English
- ESL conversation workshops

Students may use the reading laboratory and library at their convenience. However, they must make appointments for ESL tutoring and workshops.

Content Tutoring

Kiely 127–131

The Tutoring Center offers tutoring for several courses when classes are in session. You may drop in for tutoring, Monday–Saturday, any time when tutors are available. To be assured of finding a tutor in, be sure to pick up the tutoring schedule from us or visit our website:
